

Chardonnay

2008 This is extraordinary value: a classy Margaret River white from a very good vintage at a bargain-basement price for a wine from the region. It has exuberant flavours of passionfruit, peach and guava, is vibrant, deep long, with a crisp, lively finish that lingers. In 2009, it's my top rated Aussie chardonnay for less than $15.
Rating: Bloody Good!

Quaff, Peter Forrester, September 11, 2009

2008 A lighter-bodied fruit-driven style of chardonnay with lots of appeal. Mix of cereal and subtle stone fruit with some neat vanilla pod and lightly roasted cashew. Easy current drinking for the near term. Score 86/100

Ray Jordan's 2010 Wine Guide

2009 Bright straw-green; rock melon, white peach and nectarine fruit are framed by a touch of French oak that adds both to texture and flavour.
